Blue Door

by Tanya Barfield

February 24 - March 13, 2022
Welcome back to the REP and to the first of our two 2021-22 live productions.

It is hard to believe that it has been almost two years since we last performed live and whether you are a long-time patron returning to our theatre or a first timer, we heartily welcome and thank you for coming.

Your health and the health of our artists and staff is our first concern and we have taken every possible precaution to ensure that you are safe and that you feel safe when you attend our productions this year.

We are proud to be returning to live performance with Tanya Barfield’s exceptionally relevant play Blue Door, a play that asks hard questions about owning one’s past – both as an individual and as a nation.

We are delighted to welcome for this production talented Guest Directors Akin Babatundé and Ptosha Storey and gifted Guest Costume Designer Sarita Fellows, each of whom is making their REP debut with Blue Door, and to welcome back to the REP guest actor Will Cobbs who our audiences will recall from his brilliant performance in Fences in our 2018-19 season. These nationally admired theatremakers join talented REP resident artists, Actor Hassan El-Amin, Scenic Designer Stefanie Hansen, and Light and Sound Designer Eileen Smitheimer. I am confident that their collaboration on this provocative and moving play will reward your visit to our theatre.

Our second and final 2021-22 production will be a world premiere of a new play, Yeah Baby, by the most produced female playwright in Broadway history, Theresa Rebeck (Mauritius, Dead Accounts, Bernhardt Hamlet, and Seminar, among many others), who is also the creator of NBC’s hit television series SMASH, and author of the REP’s world premiere productions of O Beautiful, Fever, and The Bells, and 2018-19’s popular REP production, Mauritius.

Yeah Baby is the story of a careening day in the life of professional theater artists who find out that what they think the world is, is not what the world is. Stealing a page from Chekov and Pirandello, our talented REP resident acting company presents our own love letter to the theater and to the courage it takes to make something out of nothing during perplexing times.

So, welcome back to live theatre where here and now are not just words, but rather the unmistakable, unique features of an art form that does not exist at all until a community of artists and audiences come together in the same space to speak and listen the words of a great play and thereby provide an access to that which is eternal and cannot itself be spoken.

“IT IS A PECULIAR SENSATION, THIS DOUBLE-CONSCIOUSNESS, THIS SENSE OF ALWAYS LOOKING AT ONESELF THROUGH THE EYES OF OTHERS, OF MEASURING ONE’S SOUL BY THE TAPE OF THE WORLD THAT LOOKS ON IN AMUSED CONTEMPT AND PITY. ONE EVER FEELS HIS TWINNESS- AN AMERICAN, A NEGRO; TWO WARRING IDEALS IN ONE DARK BODY, WHOSE DOGGED STRENGTH ALONE KEEPS IT FROM BEING TORN ASUNDER.”

Directed by Theresa Rebeck & Sanford Robbins.
Written By Theresa Rebeck

Playwright Theresa Rebeck - the most produced female playwright on Broadway (Mauritius, Dead Accounts, Bernhardt Hamlet, Seminar, among many others), creator of NBC’s hit series SMASH, and author of the REP’s world premiere productions of O Beautiful, Fever, and The Bells - brings you a delightful and thought-provoking new comedy.

Yeah Baby is the story of a careening day in the life of professional theater artists who find out that what they think the world is, is not what the world is. Stealing a page from Chekov and Pirandello, the REP company presents their own love letter to the theater and the courage it takes to make something out of nothing, during perplexing times. In the struggle to confront the improbable as well as the impossible, hilarity ensues.
